

SKAY

DELTA

MARCH 2018

1 CITY 5 WAYS: SINGAPORE
ANDREW ZIMMERN TAKES LAS VEGAS
COZUMEL'S BEACHY STYLE
GAME TIME WITH KYLE CHANDLER
EXPLORING PARIS' HAUT MARAIS

LOCAL SPIRITS
AROUND
THE WORLD
AND THE BEST PLACES TO DRINK
THEM

Living Her Truth

Oprah Winfrey has spent years helping us all strive to be our best selves—making her a logical choice to play the wisest being in the universe in this month's A Wrinkle in Time.

TRENDING

The Picasso Museum

CDG

PARIS

The city's Right Bank beckons with the eminently hip Haut Marais neighborhood.

Why Now: Historically a manufacturing hub north of the fashionable Marais area, the once nondescript Haut Marais has, in recent years, redefined the Parisian term "bobo chic." This emerging Right Bank hot spot is home to many of the city's best coffee shops, independent boutiques and in-the-know restaurants.

Where to Go: Settle in at the Hôtel National des Arts et Métiers, where you can catch a glimpse of the Eiffel Tower and Sacré-Coeur from the leafy rooftop bar. In the morning, head to nearby Café Loustic for a perfectly roasted café crème before enhancing your wardrobe with a few locally designed and produced Parisian essentials at boutiques Koshka Mashka and AnikalenaSkärström. Continue your shopping jaunt at the jewelry atelier of Jonas Bowman, who will make your eyes sparkle with his collection of hand-crafted gems. If art is your passion, browse through the galleries lining the area's streets, starting at Perrotin, before visiting the revamped Picasso Museum. One of the latest haute cuisine addresses to hit the neighborhood is Carbón, which gives a nod to nature in both its dishes and décor. The menu changes regularly, but expect items such as birch bark-smoked oysters—délicieuses! Another mouth-watering stop is Marché des Enfants Rouges, Paris' oldest covered market, where you can taste cuisine ranging from Japanese to Moroccan. If you're not yet sold on the neighborhood, Merci—a used bookstore-cum-café-cum fashion and design haven—will do the trick. — KASIA DIETZ

HIT THE TOWN

☉ Mr. T

Eclectic dishes in a space with a relaxed vibe.

☉ Wild & the Moon

Fresh-pressed juices and gluten-free bites galore at this healthy locale.

☉ L'Officine Universelle Buly

Artisanal cosmetics, dried flowers and 19th-century-style coffee bar, all in one.

HOT LIST

TRAVEL ACCESSORIES

TESLA POWERBANK

You can now become a Tesla owner without spending the big bucks thanks to the company's latest gadget: a sleek pocket-sized charger for mobile devices that's powered by the same cell found in many of the batteries of its famous cars. $45

BRIGGS & RILEY TRANSCEND VX TALL CARRY-ON EXPANDABLE UPRIGHT

Offering more space with less hassle, this bag expands to fit all your extras using a unique zip-perless system. It even has a special folding section to keep suits from wrinkling en route. $399

MATADOR HYDROLITE HYDRATION BACKPACK

This backpack's built-in filtration system makes water from almost anywhere in the world safe to drink. It's lightweight and packs down to the size of a water bottle for easy transport to the most remote destinations. $190

FABIEN CAMPOVERDE (PICASSO MUSEUM); NOELLE MARIE (SHERRY B. DESSERT STUDIO)

Owner Sherry Blockinger of Sherry B. Dessert Studio

NEW & NOTEWORTHY

NYC's Meatpacking District has hit the sweet spot with Sherry B. Dessert Studio—think ice cream cake sandwiches, stuffed brownies and drinks • The just-opened NoMad Los Angeles hotel in the historic Giannini Place building plays up its Italian heritage throughout 241 rooms, a café, library and two restaurants • The new Musée Yves Saint Laurent Marrakech fetes the famed fashion designer, who found inspiration among the city's streets and souks • Cheers to the news that buzzy Big Apple bar PDT (Please Don't Tell) has set up shop in Hong Kong's The Landmark Mandarin Oriental • After extensive renovations, The Oberoi, New Delhi is back with bigger rooms and a rooftop restaurant and bar boasting gorgeous views.